Questions for the HPC Solutions Forum

Please indicate which of the following questions you will address in your talk. Please select up to 3, but at least one question.

I will address the following question(s) in my talk:*

- When is it worth it to invest in special architectures, versus sticking with industry standards?
- Are technologies and configurations for AI and HPC converging or diverging? Is it possible to serve both adequately and efficiently in the same environment?
- What can be done to make HPC and AI more efficient?
- Which is more important – improvements in existing software and workloads, or a wholesale transformation to something new?
- What is the biggest pending advancement in high-performance networking: DPUs, composability, or something else?
- What is the least appreciated aspect of high-performance data management that has the biggest impact on delivering results?
- Are LLMs a game changer that will be widely adopted, or will they remain the province of a few very large or specialized companies?
- What kinds of organizations should be investing in quantum computing knowledge and experience today, instead of waiting for it to be “ready”?
- The next innovation: What will be the big news at ISC 2034? Be as specific as you can.
